

COURSE SYLLABUS

Messianic Prophecy

Course Lecturer: Louis Goldberg, ThD

Former Professor of Theology and Jewish Studies at Moody Bible Institute

Course Description

From the protoevangelium in Genesis 3:15, proceeding through the other various Old Testament covenants, God's people anticipated the coming Messiah. Hundreds of prophecies were spoken, and those longing for God's kingdom reign waited for the day when their King would establish the throne of David forever. Still, when Jesus, the promised Messiah arrived, He received a mixed reception. Some embraced Him as the Savior of the world, while others rejected Him as a false teacher. But who was right? In this important study, Louis Goldberg takes learners through an in-depth study of Messianic prophecy. He explores the prophecies Jesus has fulfilled and those which will culminate in His future return.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of the course, you should be able to do the following:

- Trace the development of Messianic prophecy from its origin in the Old Testament to the period of the 1st century AD.
- Show how Jesus of Nazareth, in His being, life, and work, fulfilled many Messianic prophecies and that He will yet fulfill many of the Old Testament prophecies in the coming prophetic kingdom.
- Indicate Jewish interpretations of Messianic prophecy in various Scripture passages.
- Develop discriminating judgment in exegesis as to what constitutes a legitimate Messianic prophecy and/or typology in the interrelation between the Old and New Testaments.
- Examine some of the national prophecies and typological teaching concerning Israel directly relevant to the ministry of Jesus the Messiah.
