

COURSE SYLLABUS

Interpersonal Communication and Conflict Management

Course Lecturers:

Kenneth O. Gangel, PhD

Former Professor of Christian Education at Dallas Theological Seminary

Samuel Canine, PhD

Former Chairman and Professor of Pastoral Ministries at Dallas Theological Seminary

Course Description

Organizational communication is a powerful tool of construction or destruction. In this course, learners discover biblical principles of interpersonal communication and conflict management in human relationships. The course gives attention to communication models, self-concept, non-verbal messages, stress, and other strategies that assist Christian leaders in developing interpersonal communication skills. In addition, the course focuses on the nature of conflict, how to identify common styles of conflict management, and how to manage conflict acceptably and productively.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of the course, you should be able to do the following:

- Understand the nature of communication and how it works in both interpersonal and organizational context.
- Have improved listening skills with respect to both superiors and subordinates.
- Be able to describe and explain self-concept and how it relates to various aspects of the communication process.
- Be able to implement effective communication in such leadership functions as recruitment, training and supervision.
- Have a clearer understanding of the nature of conflict.
- Have a better understanding of the biblical teaching on conflict and its management.
- Be able to identify common styles individuals employ in managing conflict.
- Be able to recognize and utilize acceptable conflict management strategies.
