

COURSE SYLLABUS

NT217: New Testament Basics: Things We Thought We Knew

Course Lecturer: Dr. Craig Blomberg
Professor of New Testament at Denver Seminary

Course Description

New Testament Basics: Things We Thought We Knew provides an introduction to the New Testament as it surveys vital information that guides the student's thinking in the study of the New Testament books. This information is both basic and essential to an accurate understanding of New Testament Scriptures.

Course Objectives

1. To introduce students to survey information related to the New Testament
2. To help develop critical and practical aptitudes in understanding the Bible
3. To provide scholarly information that will foster a better understanding of the historical and biblical context of the New Testament

Course Lecturer

Dr. Craig Blomberg is the Distinguished Professor of New Testament at Denver Seminary, in Littleton, CO, where he specializes in New Testament Studies. He received his B.A. from Augustana College, Illinois (with a triple major in mathematics, Spanish, and religion), a M.A. from Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, and a Ph.D. from the University of Aberdeen, Scotland. Supplemental material in one lecture is provided by Our Daily Bread Ministries.

Course Methods

The lecture content for each lesson is provided in three easy-to-use formats: video, audio, and PDF text. Students can choose the medium (or combination of media) that most closely aligns with their individual learning styles.
